Executive Summary

At the University of Toronto Scarborough we believe that developing a safe and secure environment is a shared responsibility. The University of Toronto Scarborough Campus Community Police provide effective support and have developed strong relationships with our various partners in our Community to achieving this goal.

The primary responsibility for the protection of persons and property within our community is assigned to the Campus Community Police. The Campus Community Police achieve this responsibility through activities that support our Mission Statement which can be found at; <http://www.utoronto.ca/police/mission-statement-values>.

Methods and approaches to assist in achieving a safe and secure environment are developed through numerous community policing initiatives run in concert with the various community partners.

The University of Toronto Scarborough Campus is comprised of students, staff, and faculty from all corners of the globe. This multi-cultural environment provides an exciting opportunity to provide a foundation that is inclusive in nature and a platform in which our future leaders can work, live, play, and learn. We truly believe that Tomorrow Is Created Here!

The University of Toronto Scarborough Campus Community Police perform the following services:

- Act as first responders to all emergencies on campus.
- Conduct initial investigations for all criminal and provincial offences that occur on campus, or off campus but reported to campus police.
- Identify all offences that fall within the mandate of the Toronto Police Service and liaise with Toronto Police Service (43 Division) to assist in investigations as required.
- Assess risk levels presented by the visit of various V.I.P.'s, presentations, events and/or protests and when necessary, develop and execute security protocols.
- Provide a uniform presence on campus including mobile patrol, bicycle patrol and foot patrol officers.
- Participate in various committees to assist risk assessment measures/mitigation to ensure all major events held on campus or to ensure staff students and faculty enjoy a safe environment.
- Engage in various Community Policing initiatives focused on developing partnerships and trust with our staff, students and faculty with goal of increasing overall safety and increased communication.

The University of Toronto Scarborough Campus Community Police provides effective support to our Community, ensuring that prescribed Service standards are met while ensuring the administration, promotion and support of professionalism are upheld. These standards include the practices, conduct, appearance, ethics and integrity of its members, with a goal to strengthen public confidence and co-operation within the community.

Strategic and Intelligence led approaches are a predominant aspect of community policing within our academic setting and comprise of initiatives such as providing educational material on campus safety during orientation to all first year students, training seminars, theft prevention programs, strategic patrol initiatives, and taking part in various committees. Enforcement, although always available to the officers, is a tool that is utilized with discretion to enhance public safety within our community.

The criminal statistics for UTSC included in this report continue to demonstrate that we are a very safe community. Crimes against persons are minimal and are generally very minor in nature.

UTSC Committee Participation

Members of the Campus Community Police participate in various committees on campus, many of which focus on providing a safe environment for our staff, students and faculty. Other committees are in efforts to increase the level of engagement with members of marginalized communities, including;

- The Campus Community Police partnered with the Department of Student Life (DSL) during the Orientation activities, allowing for the opportunity to remove barriers between the students and police. Campus Police Management also worked with DSL members to provide strategic approaches to ensure safety during the various orientation events.
- Campus Community Police members sit on the University of Toronto Scarborough's Principal's Advisory Committee on Positive Space. The Positive Space Campaign is intended to help create a campus that is free of discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation and gender identities. It also aims to generate a broad and visible commitment to welcoming sexual diversity and at making talk of that diversity more comfortable, open and increasingly welcoming. Campus Community Police participated in the preparation for the Annual Rainbow Tie Gala and provided funding and resources during the annual Positive Treats initiative.
- The Campus Community Police chair the Campus Safety Committee, which is comprised of representatives of a cross section of our community who explore ways to enhance safety and security from the various user group perspectives. The focus of the committee is to ensure the safety services provided by the Department of Campus Safety and Security were explained and promoted to members of our community.
- Campus Community Police take part in the Student Welfare Committee, comprised of Managers and Directors who collaborate to case manage situations of students at risk to ensure students receive the support necessary to increase the chance of success in their educational endeavours while also ensuring safety in the community.
- Campus Community Police sit on the Risk Assessment Committee. This is a committee comprised of management and student representatives that assess events to identify and mitigate personal and physical risks associated with events held on campus, thereby ensuring the success and safety of the participants during the event.

- Leadership, Education and Development (LEAD) program – The Manager participated in this initiative as a mentor and was paired a mentee throughout the program which ran from September 2016 to April 2017. The mentees met with their mentors to focus on topics of interest and to learn from their mentor’s experience and wisdom.
- Antic-Racism & Cultural Diversity Committee (ARCDO) – one member is part of this committee whose purpose is to provide a breadth of knowledge and expertise related to antiracism, cultural diversity and creed and provide feedback on the impact of policies and programs in relation to these matters and to ensure engagement with key stakeholder communities.

Community Policing Initiatives

In 2016, the UTSC Campus Community Police continued with many community policing partnerships to serve our community. As previously mentioned, this community is represented by students from every part of the world. Some of our students come from areas where the community and police do not enjoy good relationships which in turn emphasized the need for constructive community policing projects to remove systemic barriers and introduce these students to an ideal policing model. These initiatives include, but are certainly not limited to, the following:

- The Campus Community Police created a Coffee with a COP event that was designed to foster interaction between us and the community to provide information and awareness on the role of the Campus Community Police and safety services provided.
- Breast Awareness Month (October) - our officers participated in an initiative with other Police Services in Ontario which had the officers wear pink epaulettes on their uniforms. The epaulettes were meant to act as a symbol to support breast cancer initiatives and create opportunities to open dialogue on the issue.
- Dodgeball – our members participated in the UTSC Move U Dodgeball tournament with various faculty and student groups. Communication has been received from the organizers that the students were excited to participate with members of our office and encouraged us to participate again in the future.
- Campus Safety Day – Our members conducted an Automated External Defibrillator (AED) awareness event. The University recently placed ten AED's throughout campus and members of the community were provided instruction and demonstration of the proper use of the devices.
- Movie Night – Our members, in partnership with the Department of Student Life, held a movie night as a pre-final exam De stressor for students.
- Basketball Game – members of our office held a charity basketball game with other staff and students with a focus on building relationships while also providing an opportunity for food donation to a local charity.
- Theft Prevention – members of our office, along with members of the library staff held an event to engage students and promote awareness relating to theft.
- Bike Theft Prevention –our members, along with members of Sustainability and the Bike Share Program held an event to increase awareness of bike theft on campus. Bike maintenance was provided and secure bicycle locks were raffled.
- Holiday Party – our members participated in the annual UTSC family holiday party and held an interactive display to assist in the promotion of safety services on campus.

Moving Forward

The University of Toronto Scarborough Campus Community Police will continue with proactive strategies to both identify safety concerns and implement strategies to better serve our community. We have continued our partnership with the Toronto Police Service 43 Division, and presently take part in weekly Crime Management Meetings as well as area meetings which provide intelligence on issues facing other jurisdictions and educational communities, We are extremely invested in community based policing by partnering with our community. The partnerships we forge today are the foundations for building and strengthening our community's need to create and sustain a positive, nurturing environment that is so vital for the growth of our future leaders.

Organization, Statistics and Mandatory Reporting

Supervision

The Manager of UTSC Campus Community Police Service reports to the Director of Campus Safety, Issue and Emergency Management, who in turn reports to the Chief Administrative Officer specific to UTSC. The Manager and the Staff Sergeants of the UTSC Special Constable Services are responsible for the management, training and general supervision of all Corporals and Special Constables, while the Corporals are responsible for the supervision of the Special Constables on duty. Managers are generally on duty from 7:00 A.M. – 7:00 P.M. Monday to Friday and on call and available at other times. There is a Corporal or Acting Corporal on duty 24/7/365 and is designated as shift supervisor and is responsible for supervising between 1 and 4 officers.

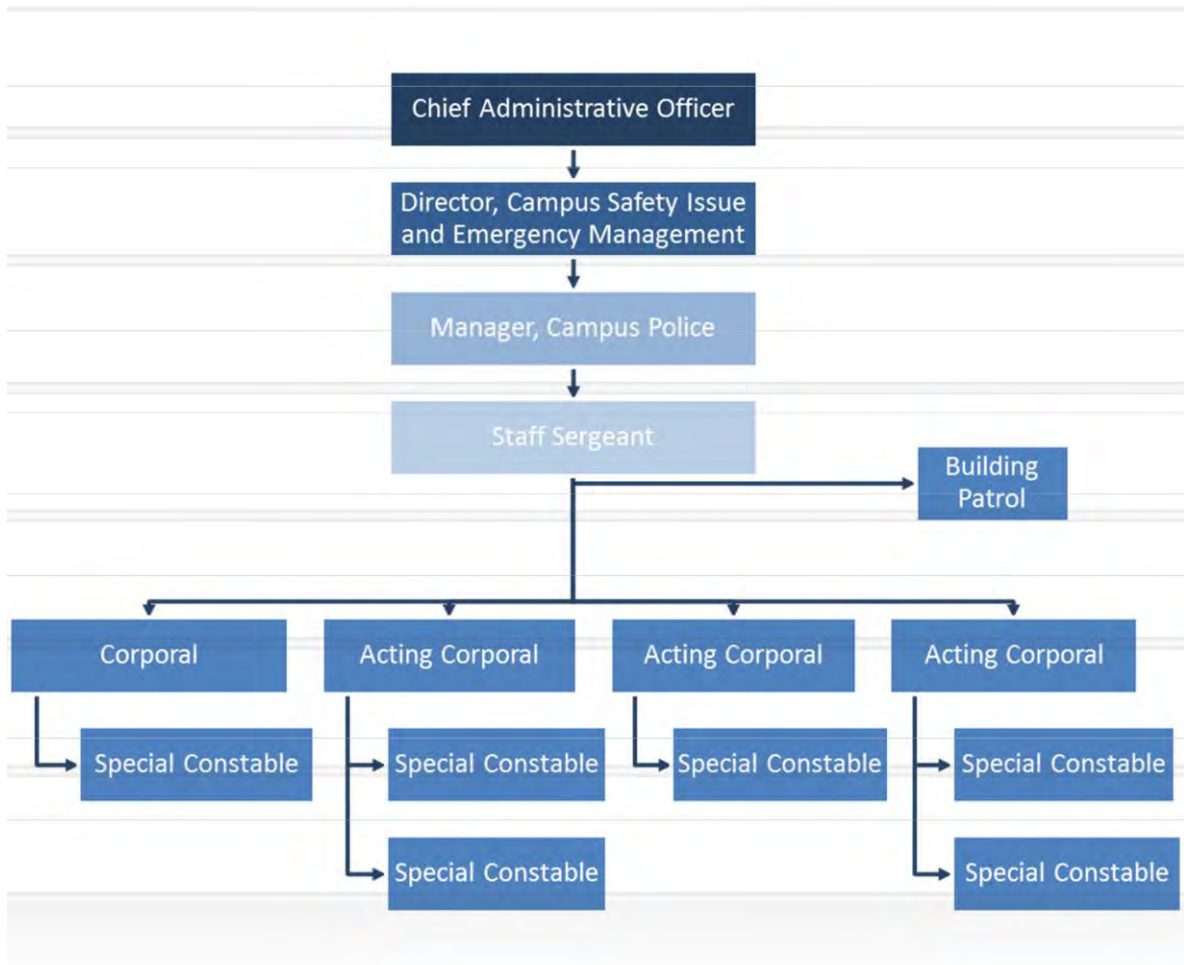

Staffing

In the beginning of 2016, UTSC Campus Community Police had a deployment of 11 front line officers (plus one Manager and two Staff Sergeants) to serve the community. During the course of the year, the deployable officer numbers fluctuated greatly due to the timing of transfers to the St. George Campus (2), separations (2), a termination, two long term injuries, one administrative restriction and four recruit hires (July and November).

As of the time of this report (March 2016) one officer remains on administrative restriction and one on long term injury accommodation, leaving the number of deployable officers at eleven plus management. A recruiting process has just concluded and three full time and one term (18 month) officers have been given offer letters to join the Campus Community Police in April 2017 who will be fully deployable by August - September 2017.

The Campus Community Police Service also employs six Building Patrol Officers (licenced security guards) who compliment the Special Constables in providing safety and security to our community.

Training

In 2016, the University of Toronto at Scarborough Campus Community Police continued to look to both external agencies and in-service trainers for the purpose of fulfilling the training needs of our Special Constables. UTSC Campus Community Police Service has continued conducting regular mandatory in-house training sessions for all Special Constables.

The University of Toronto at Scarborough Campus Community Police Service is committed to the improvement of front-line training for officers that is reflective of the diverse needs and expectations of the university community. Our training is also designed to meet the needs of the UTSC community in combination with directives from the Toronto Police Services Board. The training program is developed through consultation with the community, other institutions and debriefing of situations.

Recommendations from all levels of police personnel contribute to the process of designing the courses to meet the specific needs of the Campus Community Police and the community. The training curriculum is designed to ensure a balanced mix of mandatory skills training, sensitivity to a University environment and practical field experience. The use of classroom lectures, seminars and the participation of in-group discussions appropriate for campus-policing situations. Campus resources are used where possible, but due to the unique policing challenges on a campus setting, outside resources are occasionally used as well.

On April 20, 2016 a full day training session was held on campus for all members and including the following topics;

Restricted Equipment

The University of Toronto Scarborough Campus Special Constables are issued with collapsible batons. None of the officers are issued with oleoresin capsicum spray or foam.

Crime, Traffic & Order Management

The statistics included in these tables do not reflect the total workload of the Campus Special Constables. Proactive policing still accounts for the majority of time spent by the officers during their tour of duty. The officers therefore account for a large number of self-generated Calls-For-Service, many of which involve checking and patrolling specific locations on campus to ensure safety. In 2016 Campus Police Special Constables generated or responded to 4423 Calls for Service which resulted in the submission of 855 reports. These statistics also do not reflect the informal and impromptu contacts the officers have with members of the university community which also contribute to an enhanced sense of personal safety.

As identified in the chart above, the issue of thefts on campus has seen a dramatic decrease in the last few years. This decrease can be attributed to the significant effort placed on this type of crime through campaigns, posters, partnerships and discussion with students, faculty and staff.

In 2016, we did see an increase in bicycle thefts on campus, particularly peaking in the month of May. An initiative was conducted by our members and two non-community members were identified and arrested for a number of bike thefts on campus.

Property

Property that is evidence of criminal charges is managed by the Toronto Police Service. Found property is maintained by the University's Lost and Found protocols and therefore does not generate reporting by the Campus Community Police Special Constables to the Toronto Police Service.

Executive Summary

Background The University of Toronto was established in 1827 by Royal Charter. In 1904, the University hired its first Police Constable who was also responsible for discipline. Over the years, as times have changed, so has the role of the University of Toronto Campus Community Police. Because the University was not originally part of the city service plan, it was responsible for its own policing. Constables were appointed by the Province. Later, city police service was provided through mutual aid agreements.

The University campus police special constable service was made responsible to the Toronto Police Services Board through an agreement signed in 1995. Today, we provide special constable services to support the University community and the Toronto Police Service by responding to calls for service and incidents on the campus in a timely and community oriented manner. Currently providing service to a community of seventy thousand students and more than ten thousand faculty and staff, the University of Toronto Campus Community Police Special Constable Service has three functional groups – St. George (Downtown), Scarborough and Mississauga Campuses. Each is functionally separate but work under a common policy. There are two separate special constable agreements – one with Peel Regional Police Services Board and the other with the Toronto Police Services Board. More than ten thousand students are in residence on the St. George campus and the balance use transit and other means of transportation to attend as day students. The University of Toronto is the largest university in Canada and the United States (by enrolment) and the most diverse university in the world. Almost every racial, language, ethnic, national, political and religious group is represented. Approximately fifteen thousand new students are admitted to the University every year and a similar number are granted degrees. During the non-academic year, the University is host to students from around the world looking for a Canadian experience. The university is a peaceful place where issues are explored, debated and at times argued. The freedom to speak, believe and learn is fundamental to the institution. Despite or because of its differences, the University thrives in the world of research and culture. By all of the standards used to assess the safety of a community in Canada, the University of Toronto remains a safe environment. Our campuses are open to the community. They are the source of much of the academic culture available in the cities of Toronto and Mississauga. It is the role of the special constable service to recognize and anticipate issues and take corrective action. For this reason, each campus service has responsibilities beyond community policing and law enforcement. We provide safety and security plans, systems and services. Our methodology relies heavily on Crime Prevention through Environmental Design (CPTED) principles for physical security and the office of the Community Safety Office for social and community development, safety planning and coordination of crisis services. The result is a level of service sought by many academic and community organizations. It serves our community well.

In 2016, the University of Toronto Campus Police upgraded to a state-of-the-art communications centre and converted to the Ontario Police Technology Information Cooperative (OPTIC) Niche RMS, which is utilized by various Police services across Ontario. The communications centre on the St. George Campus is now also responsible for dispatching U of T Scarborough and Mississauga campuses.

Highlights of Reporting Year

Break and Enter

Offenders continue to target University of Toronto buildings in search of electronic items such as laptops, flat screen monitors, televisions and projectors. Members of the service liaise with members of the Toronto Police major crime unit to investigate these occurrences. In 2016, 9 Break and Enters were reported, two of which resulted in arrests by Campus Police.

Theft

Theft Under occurrences decreased in 2016 by a staggering 69 thefts compared to 2015. Campus Police remained vigilant in their proactive approach to crime prevention and theft awareness on campus. Campus Police continued the STOP Campus Theft Campaign and emphasized it during Orientation week when thousands of new students are learning about safety on campus. Thefts occurred at various campus buildings, while libraries actually saw a dramatic drop in thefts. Electronic equipment, wallets and cash were among the targeted items again in 2016.

Indecent Acts

There were 23 Indecent Acts reported in 2016. Although this is an increase from 2015 (15), Campus Police were able to arrest seven different offenders including one dangerous offender believed to be responsible for up to 10 Indecent Acts on campus. Diligent patrols, response time, and undercover surveillance projects led to catching these individuals.

Sexual Assault

Sexual Assault occurrences rose to 11 in 2016 compared to only 2 in 2015. Sexual Assault cases are escalated to the Toronto Police Service for investigation. To address sexual violence on campus, the University of Toronto created a Sexual Violence and Support Centre and new policies regarding sexual violence. These initiatives will be led by the Executive Director, Personal Safety, High Risk and Sexual Violence and Support.

Drugs

Although illegal drug occurrences involving Campus Police are uncommon on the St. George Campus, in 2016 Campus Police arrested an individual who was subsequently charged with trafficking along with other drug related charges.

Weapons

In June of 2016 Campus Police received a radio call for a masked man carrying a firearm in the area of the Jackman Law building. Campus Police assisted Toronto Police with crowd control and secured perimeters as the area was searched. In the end, no firearm was found.

Organization, Statistics and Mandatory Reporting

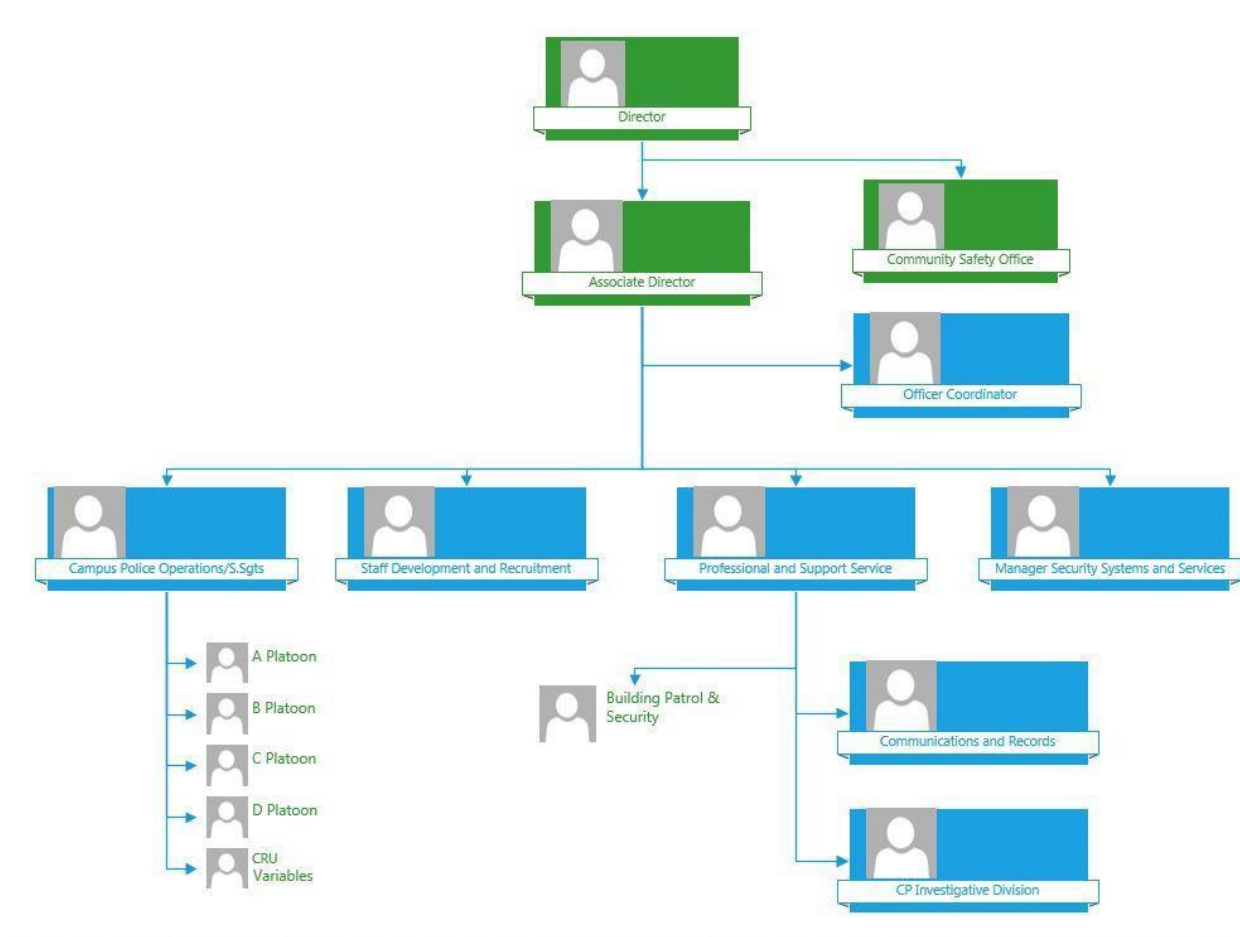

Direction, Management and Supervision

The University of Toronto Campus Community Police at St. George Campus operate 24/7 utilizing groups of uniform personnel led by a Staff Sergeant, assisted by a Corporal and dispatcher to support and guide the special constables in their work.

The Director, Campus Police Services manages a portfolio that includes the special constable service, led by the Associate Director, Campus Police Operations. There are no special constables in the Community Safety Office, Security Services, Call Centre or Security Systems and Services groups. They are not part of the special constable operation and no report is made for their activity.

The Community Safety portfolio includes all campuses while the special constable and other services are unique to the St. George campus.

Training

Our training mandate is designed to meet the needs of the University. Training combines Directives from the Toronto Police Service, changes in law, court decisions, and Federal and Provincial standards into a comprehensive learning model.

The Service strives to keep current with community policing, public safety and law enforcement trends while recognizing trends in social development and learning from professionals within and outside the University. The training program is developed through consultation with the community, other institutions and case debriefing of situations.

The Service welcomes constructive comment from its clients. Recommendations from all levels of policing contribute to the process of designing and delivering the courses to meet the specific needs of the service and its community. The training curriculum is designed to ensure a balanced mix of mandatory skills training, sensitivity to the University environment and practical field experience. This is accomplished through a combination of on-line and in-class lectures, seminars and participative, in-group discussions to approximate campus policing situations.

Campus resources are used whenever possible, but due to the unique style of policing that is required on campus; outside resources are occasionally used. The nature of the University community requires its special constables to have a high level of understanding of the cultures, beliefs and experiences of people from all over the world. Constraints in budget have resulted in significant reduction in outside training and attendance at courses, conferences and conventions.

Understanding people and developing empathy for their situations is essential to providing community policing services. There are core learning requirements that lead to understanding diversity in many parts of the training, not just in courses titled as such. The initiatives taken are highlighted in the chart but an explanation is included to provide context.
